Location:

Beauval is a village on the main road (N25) between Amiens and Doullens, about 24 kilometres north of Amiens and 6 kilometres south of Doullens. Beauval Communal Cemetery is on the northern side of the village at the end of a by-road leading off the main road - Rue de l'Eglise.

Historical Information:

The 4th Casualty Clearing Station was at Beauval from June, 1915, to October, 1916, and the 47th from October to December, 1916. The great majority of the burials were carried out from these hospitals; but a few were made as late as March, 1918, and after the Armistice graves from Lucheux Military Cemetery were moved to Rows A and G in this cemetery. There are now over 250, 1914-18 and a small number of 1939-45 war casualties commemorated in this site. The British Plot covers an area of 852 square metres. LUCHEUX MILITARY CEMETERY was made by French troops and used at intervals from 1916 to 1918 by British units. It stood at the South end of the village of Lucheux, in wooded country North-East of Doullens; and it contained the graves of 48 French soldiers, twelve British and one New Zealand, and two men of the Chinese
